MINING ASSN. ASKS FOR HELPFUL LAWS

TEACHERS RESIST ROLPH PLAN TO SHIFT TAXES

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 19.—(UP)—School teachers of California have moved their big guns up to the legislative battle front, ready to oppose Governor Rolph's so-called "school economy program" to the limit.

The principal target of their offensive is the proposal to reduce the constitutional guarantees of state school aid to counties from $30 to $24 per elemtary and high school pupil.

In addition, they object to abolishing adult education, and limiting the advantages of higher education by increasing tuition charges that are against students.

KERSEY, AROUSED

Soon after the governor's message Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, declared he would oppose the reduction program to the bitter end.

What the teachers insist is unfair, is that it would shift the burden from the state to counties. At the same time, they declare, "big business" in the form of public utilities such as railroads, telephones and telegraph companies, and gas and electric companies, would escape their just burden of taxes.

"The only tax relief that can result from eliminating fixed charges in the constitution is tax relief for the corporation groups" said a statement laid upon the legislators' desk by the California teachers' association.

TAX BURDENS MAY SHIFT

"The principles of equality and justice in taxation are seriously threatened with further violation. Unless the common citizens of California awake to decisive action, they will shortly find themselves bearing even heavier tax burdens than at present. And public service corporations escaping from the increased taxes they rightfully should pay."

The teachers pointed out that "it is sheer nonsense to speak of making adult education self-supporting." The result of increasing fees for night schools would be to abolish the schools, they said.

Because of the prolonged fight over the school measure, Senator Arthur H. Breed of Oakland has predicted that the present legislative session would last four weeks instead of three, as originally planned.

ELEVEN AT WORK IN REMINGTON HILL MINE

The Remington Gravel Mine, located about twenty miles north of this city, has recently shown a high value of drift gravel. The first cleanups were made a short time ago after several weeks of drifting and washing of gravel. The cleanups showed an average recovery of $8.00 per cubic yard through the gravel worked.

During the past summer and fall the eleven men that have been regularly employed drifted a total of 1300 feet through the gravel bank. an up-to-date gravel washing plant has been installed and work of an extensive nature is being planned for the year 1933.

Ambulance Rushes Sick Man From Alleghany

Jack Mulcahey of Alleghany, suffering from typhoid fever, was rushed to a hospital in Grass Valley Tuesday in the W. R. Jefford & Son ambulance. James McClish was the driver and he made record time. It was snowing in Alleghany when he arrived there.

SIERRA COUNTY MINE BONDED TO NEW COMPANY

Immediate mining operations are expected to begin at the Oro mine near Downieville. The mine has been bonded recently to a new concern called the Oro Mining Company. It is their plan to install new machinery at once, including hoist, compressor and drills.

PANNERS AVERAGE 40 CENTS PER DAY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 15.—(UP)—California's "depression miners" averaged approximately 40 cents a day last year as amateur gold panners according to Walter W. Bradley, state mineralogist.

The gold production of the state for 1932 is estimated at $11,648,000, of which $450,000 represents the work of the small placer operators driven to gold-bearing streams by lack of employment.

"Individually these 'tenderfeet' miners, possibly 10,000 in number ,averaged as much as 40 cents a day, but in the aggregate they were an important factor in California's answer to leveling off the depression," Bradley declared.

GRAMMAR AND HIGH SCHOOLS CLOSED TODAY

Attendance at both the Washington Grammar School and the Nevada City High School was so low that their principals, Mr. Walter A. Carlson and H. E. Kjorlie respectively, announced that the schools would be closed yesterday at noontime and would open with regular classes not sooner than Monday morning of next week.

The closing o fthe schools is of the result of the large absent list Wednesdary and Thursday at the grammar school and Thursday at the high school.

Wednesday morning Mr. Carlson reported that there were 38 students absent from the eight grades and in the afternoon there were 41 that were not in attendance. Due to the continued rain and snow yesterday there were 79 grammar students absent in the morning, which prompted the closing of the school at noon.

Wednesday at the high school Mr. Kjorlie states that there were but four students absent despite the storm. These four had been sick and were out of school before the storm occured. Yesterday morning however, the student absent list mounted to 45 and the high school closed for yesterday afternoon and today. Both schools plan to open Monday morning.

MEASURE TO AID HOME BUILDERS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 19.—(UP)—A home building boom is anticipated in California if a measure authorizing reconstruction finance corporation loans for building purposes is adopted by the state legislature.

Introduced by Assemblymen M. S. Meeker, Kerman; Roy Bliss, Carpintria; and Lucius Powers, Fresno, the bill provides for immediate organization of "Limited Dividend Housing Companies" under the direction of the state housing commission.

The companies would obtain loans from the R. F. C. to be used in construction of low-cost homes to be sold or rented on a self-liquidating basis.

"The government has authorized loans to states to finance building," Meeker said. "To take advantage of this offer it is necessary for the state to enact legislation as we have proposed.

"A preliminary survey shows that possibly eight or ten of these low-cost housing companies could be formed in the larger cities immediately. Five to ten million dollars of mortage money put to work by them in small house construction would do enormous good in reviving the building industry. Every house so built ought to encourage construction of four or five homes in the neighborhood by people who are only waiting for such signs of revival to build themselves.

"The existing California commission of immigration and housing in the division of industrial relations is prepared to act as intermediary between the companies and the R. F. C. The bill carries no appropriation and all expenses of the setup of the companies would be borne by fees paid to the commission," he said.

Carter will have charge of the sale. Vernon Stoll is attorney for the plaintiff.

RURAL COUNTIES IN CONTROL OF SENATE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 19.—(UP).—Under the new system of legislative reapportionment, the senate is in control of the rural counties, while the assembly is under the thumb of the big cities.

An idea how this has worked out is in the number of attorneys in the legislature. In the senate the number dropped from 20 out of 39 in 1931 to 14 out of 40 in 1933, or from approximately half the membership to one-third.

In the assembly the number of attorneys increased from 21 in 1931 to 29 in 1933. In the same body the number of farmers and ranchers dropped from 13 in 1931 to 4 in 1933.

SNOWFALL 15 IN. RAINFALL, 1.55 IN. WEATHER WARMS

Three more inches of snow fell yesterday in Nevada City, which added to 12 inches of the preceeding 24 hours made a total snow fall here of 15 inches for the storm up to date. These figures were supplied the Nugget by Mrs. Helen Burger.

When it wasn't snowing there was a considerable fall of rain, precipitation amounting to 1.20 inches Wednesday and .35 inches yesterday, making a total of 1.55 inches up till 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Yesterday was warmer than Wednesday when the thermoneter ranged from 29 to 33 degrees above zero, while yesterday at 32 to 39 degrees.

At the Ski Club, Sheriff George Carter reported five feet of new snow yesterday morning.

HI BASKETEERS PLAY AT ROSEVILLE TONIGHT

Because of the heavy snow that has fallen here during the past few days, the scheduled A and B class basketball games between the high schools of Roseville and Nevada City scheduled here will be played in Roseville instead. The games that were to have been played between the two schools at Roseville February 10th, will be played here instead, in order to maintain the home and home arrangements.

The game between the A class team will be for the second place in the league, as both Roseville and Nevada City have lost but one league game each. Placer high school stand undefeated and in first place. Coach Bev Barron is optomistic about his team's chances to put over a win tonight.

The starting lineup for the A team as announced by Barron will be: Chapman and Toccalini, forwards; Pierce center, and Casci and Tucker, guards. As a last minute change, he may start Wasley in place of Tucker. Schiffner and Moore will round out the squad of eight players on the A team.

Barron says that his B team has improved and he hopes they will break into the win column. He is trying out every possible combination in order to produce a lineup that will click.

Barron will start Tamblyn and Doyle at forwards, Celio at center and Barry and Hoffman at guards. A possible change will be Sbaffi in Tamblyn's place at forward and Tamblyn back at his guard position in place of Hoffman.

Both teams will leave for Roseville in private cars at 5:15 this afternoon as the B team game starte at 7:30.

Walter Hegarty entertained a few friends at a party Tuesday night.

Vice President Submits New Bills To Legislature

Mining operators throughout the state are determined that the legislature, now sitting shall take definite steps toward improving the legal status of the industry, especially those affecting workmen compensation. Frank A. Crampton, vice president and executive secretary of the Mining Association of California, has prepared for the Nevada City Nugget, a brief resume of bills pertaining to the mining industry, which have either been introduced in the state legislature or will be introduced within a few days. Other measures under course of preparation will be reviewed in these columns within a few days. Here is the list of those now ready for action:

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

1. "Relating to misrepresentation in the procuring of compensation awards." This bill sets penalties for procuring unjust compensation awards and strengthens existing statues.

2. "Relating to statements of dependency" under Workmens Compensation Act. This bill makes it manditory to disclose all dependents of a workman in order to prevent unfair claims of those not actually dependent.

3. "A similiar bill regarding Alien dependents.

4. "Relating to computation of the earnings of employees." This bill clarifies exisiting statues and the Workmans Compensation Act in the matter of "employees actual average weekly earnings," for establishing a "true" basis for computing compensation.

5. "Relating to proceedings of the commission with relation to findings and award of compensation and the jurisdiction thereof." This bill provides a group o fthree medical men to appear before the Industrial Accident Commission to testify regarding the "actual" condition of the injured employee. One appointed by the injured, one appointed by the insurance carrier and one by the employer.

6. "Relating to the extent and amount of a compensation to be paid thereunder." This bill provides a limit to the total time allowed for medical treatment.

7. "Relating to definitions and terms used therein." This bill provides a clearification of definitions in regard to "injury" or "disease" "arising out of the employment actually contracted in the course of the employment, and actually contracted in the course of the employment, and manifesting itself during the period of the employment in which it was contracted."

8. "Relating to definitions of terms used in the act." This bill provides a calarification of "work performed in the course of, and necessary to, and employment."

9. "An act to provide for the examination and registration of elevator and hoist men employed in mines." This act provides for a rigid examination and the issuance of a certificate to those passing the examination. The act follows the ones of other mining states.

CORPORATE SECURITIES ACT

10. A bill to repeal the Corporate Securities Act.

11. "Relating to securities included and securities excluded from the operation of the act." This bill provides the exemption of mining securities under the Corporate Securities Act, and together with companion bills, will reguire issue of permits for sale of securities. The substance of the companion bills follow.

12 13 14. "An act providing for the regulation and supervision of mining companies, brokers ,agents, and sales of mining securities as the same are therein defined, and to prevent fraud in the sale of such securities; provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof.

15. "An act to repeal the Corporate Securities Act and to substitute therefor regulation and supervision to prevent fraud." This bill provides for the Corporation Commissioner to regulate— and supervise the sale of securities without the requirement of permits for the sale of securities and establishes a very strong and drastic fraud act, in connection with it, patterned after the Colorado Fraud Law and the Martin Fraud Law of the State of New Work.

Bills on other phases of mining will be ready next week.

The bills relating to the Corporate Securities Act are companion bills, designed to clarify and establish entirely new rules and regulations for the control of the sale of securities. The pasage of these bills will permit legitimate operations, whether of mines or industries, to be financed without the regulations now imposed. The bills are designed to protect against all types of fraud and "teeth" have been put into the present fraud laws in order to protect the legitimate investor and the honest promoter. The Commissioner of Corporations is to remain for the purpose of administering the new acts but the power of decision in regard to permits is withdrawn.

If the bills relating to the Corporate Securities Act are passed, there will be a substantial and immediate response by capital to the mines and industries of California.

Giant Spruce Crashes Down On Office Building

A great spruce tree 100 feet tall and three feet in diamenter weighted with snow and rotted below ground, toppled before a sharp gust of wind shortly before 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and crashed down upon the office building of the Nevada County Lumber Company.

Fred Conner, manager of the company was home at lunch when the tree fell. But Miss Georgia Donnelly, his secretary was there sitting in the front office. She had moved into that room during the lunch hour because it was warmer. The tree struck, falling from the easterly side of the building, and crashed down directly over the inner office where she had been workking a few minutes before, but did not break through the rafters except in one point where a jagged hole was torn in the plastering.

Miss Donnelly was taken home in a highly nervous condition. Manager Conner, on his arrival quickly ordered the great log sawed through at the point where it struck the roof tree thus relieving the building of the tremendous weight.

The tree smashed the roof structure of the building, but was stopped by the studding and rafters, doing little damage to the walls or ceiling. Actual damage was less than $500.

"Those pioneers, who built this house," declared Connor, after viewing the wreckage, were honest builders."

Those who examined the scene in the afternoon declared that only the sturdy construction of the building had saved Miss Donnelly's life.

People with radios are finding that they do not need to subscribe to big metropolitan newspapers any more. They get the news of the world, the United States and their state over the radio, hours before the big presses are through rumbling off the news. The metropolitan papers themselves are responsible for the radio broadcasts of the news, and the people grateful of course for this new free service which saves them eye strain, have discontinued their subscriptions to the metropolitan dailies by the thousands. Radio news finally turned around and bit the hand that fed it, i. e. the metropolitan press.

But in the meantime, hundreds of small town dailies and weeklies have stepped up their circulation. Everybody likes to know what is going on in their own neighborhood and environs.

That this demand for the home news is urgent is attested by the fact that the Nevada City Nugget,, since last August, has added 300 new paid subscribers to its mailing lists. Not a day passes but one or more new subscribers come into the office and ask to have their names added to the Nugget's circulation list.

This is in response, not to strong armed soliciting but to the fact that the Nugget is constantly improving its news service. Only last Monday we subscribed for the United Press service covering all state news events of interest to our readers. In the last two months we have secured the services of correspondents in many of the mining centers of Nevada and Sierra Counties.

It is the purpose of the Nugget publishers to build a clean, interesting, home paper, that will appeal to Nevada county readers on its merits.

LOOKING UP

By S. G. RUBINOW

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 20.—(UP)—More men and women are thinking today in terms of economics than ever before in the history of the country—all phases of economics but mostly in terms of economic reform of improvement.

As many plans have been suggested as there are groups. Naturally, each group has been prejudiced or biased in favor of its own problems. This was to be expected. But in addition, other plans have been suggested that encompass society as a whole.

About one of these plans, if it can be labelled such, readers of newspapers have seen much. I refer to "Technocracy."

Recently, another plan, called the "Clair Plan," originated by Francis J. Clair, and made public through Lions International, has been given a rather wide spread.

* * *

The trouble with many of these plans is, that they do not strike at the roots of the problem.

First of all, there must be a definite understanding and universal acceptance of what the problem is.

Secondly, a plan must be formulated which will benefit everyone, not just special groups or classes.

In the third place, it must be specified in what direction such benefits or improvements are to go.

And last but not least, any plan to have merit, must be capable of being executed. There has been too much theorizing to say the least.

From the viewpoint of practicability, more and more people are beginning to believe there is some merit in the suggestion, recently made, that what the United States needs is a business dictator.

The idea isn't as funny as it sounds. Inch for inch, or pound for pound, there are more business brains in the United States than anywhere else in the world.

Mechanization and industrialization of business in the United States, compared to the rest of the civilized world, proves this statement.

* * *

Now, it is being argued, why can't the same application of business genius to the problems of economics, government and welfare, do as much for society in general, as it has done for industry in particular.

A business dictator for the United States, clothed with proper authority, free of all red-tape, vested real power, and backed by the people could, it is asserted, do more in less time in effecting national improvement than anything else suggested to date.

The suggestion is not wild or impractical. The difficulty lies in putting the idea over.

* * *

Of course, it is taken for granted that the proper man could be found. I think there is no question about that. There are many to whom an opportunity for service would appeal more than dollars.

Personally, I like the idea. And, I think many more feel the same. In the long run, it's always an individual who gets things done. Committees and democracy may look fine on paper, but what's wanted right now is action.

One business dictator, armed with the proper power, could and would make many mistakes. But he couldn't make as many errors, or waste as much energy, or flounder about as much as a thousand committees.

The reorganization story and names of the new directors of Mining Association in Monday's issue of the Nugget and this morning the story of the bills introduced by the association, to aid the mining industry to take full advantage of its present opportunity, are of vital interest to this section. Besides these two features were many other stories relating to mining development in this district. The Nuggets activity in featuring mining news is reflected in many new names among our subscribers both in the Twin Cities and in the mining communities in the hills.

It would be a courtesy and a community favor ,when the big highway motor plows goes rolling down Broad street, if every car owner would get his car as much out of the way as possible. A good clear track for cars on the business streets of this city will help business.

The sailor rocked in the cradle of the deep has nothing on telephone and P. G. & E. line men and the ditch tenders in the good old winter time in the mountains. Day and night they are on duty. Thursday night, under Dan Stewart, P. G. & E. manager for this section, 12 line men were busy, most of them all night, clearing broken branches from the power lines in Willow Valley, Boulder and Sacramento streets. The wet snow is specially conducive to shorts and when the circuit breaker goes on, the men go to work. These men deserve a grateful thought when we eat our breakfast by electric light, after cooking them comfortably on an electric stove, in a room warmed by electric heaters. They're the lads that make our comfort possible.

A letter from the state department of motor vehicles states that the safety campaign is bearing fruit. Only 313 school children were killed in the first eleven months of last year, and that was 114 less than in 1931 when 427 was killed. think of it! Death is waiting just around the corner for your children and mine; 313 killed in eleven months of 1932. Every man and woman in California driving a car should have those figures impressed on their minds, and resolve to drive carefully wherever children are. By taking a little care, precious young lives may be saved.

Incidentally the vehicle department has issued another warning that after January 31, license plates will cost $6 instead of $3.

RAILROAD SCRIPT TO CUT TRAVEL COSTS

Railroad scripe books, offering "wholesale" transportation at a reduction of 25 per cent under the regular fare, will be placed on sale beginning February 1 at all Southern Pacific ticket offices, it was announced by the company today.

Good interchangeably for travel on all railroads west of Chicago and New Orleans, the scrip books contain 3000 miles of transportation worth $108, and will sell for $81, it was stated. A smaller unit book valued at $72 will sell for $54, with both types of scrip good for one year after date of purchase, according to the announcement.

This reduction in travel costs will be of particular benefit to commercial travelers, it was pointed out, although the scrip books will be available to the general public for normal first class transportation on all trains.

DOCTOR LAUDS HERBS, DRUGS

Drugs and simple remedies handed down for generations and later discarded are now proving to be of great value to the medical profession.

This was revealed by Dr. Linn John Boyd, head of the department of pharmacology and homeopathy of the New York Homeopathy Medical College. Dr. Boyd came from New York to attend the sessions of the American College of Physicians, of which he is a fellow.

"We can observe certain results in the use of animals," Boyd said. "But the animals cannot tell their feelings. For th efiner shades in results we need the human."

In these lesser known and discarded drugs, he pointed out ,modern medical science is finding great value. HERBS USED BY THE CHINESE FOR CENTURIES AND THEN DISCARDED, TODAY ARE AGAIN BEING UNIVERSALLY USED.

OIL MAN AND MINING ENGINEER INSPECT MINES

Recently inspecting quartz mining prospects in this district and around Auburn, were E. P. Heck and Morris B. Parker, his engineer. The men were favorably impressed with several properties in this district and with one very promising quartz mine prospect in the Auburn district, control of which is now held by Mr. Long of Nevada City. Long has been located in this city for nearly a year in connection with the Gracey quartz mine in Gold Flat. He formerly mined in the Fresno district and in several middle western states. Years ago he worked on a mine in old Mexico with Parker.

According to Long, the Auburn mine is one of the most promising that he has seen. Parker and Heck think very highly of it also, along with other Nevada City ditsrict prospects. For over a week the visitors inspected various properties here and plan to return in a short period of time for further examination.

Heck has been interested i noil for many years. He was instrumental in the drilling and developing of the oil fields around Bakersfield and Taft, and he is still interested to a considerable extent in those fields. Not only in California, but in Texas also, does Heck hold oil properties. In past years Heck owned oil wells in Texas were among the busiest in that region. Now the oil industry is what is termed "shot" and Heck has closed his operations in the Lone Star state.

Turning from an industry that is far from sound at this time, Heck has looked toward gold mining and for the past year he has been investigating quartz properties on this coast from old Mexico to Alaska. Relaying to a great extent upon the judgment of Parker, Heck looks on the Nevada City field with much favor and he stated that it is one of the most promising fields they have looked over.

Parker, a consulting mining engineer from Hollywood ,has had great experience in mining in the west. During the war when silver mines were the busiest, Parker was for 3 years consulting engineer for the California-Randsburg Company at their silver mine in Randsburg, the largest in the state of California.

During this past summer, Parker was engaged to do mine examination work in Alaska. Earlier in the year he did considerable examination work on a gold quartz mine that was 60 miles on a railroad and four days on a mule from Gundalajara, Mexico, the so-called Paris of America. Guadalajara is in the state of Jalisco and boasts of 200,000 people and 300 churches. The mine examined by Parker has been worked on and off for the past 300 years an di sone of the richest of Mexican mines. Transportation problems an dother difficulties make problems and other difficulties make the continued operation of the mine by American capital very difficult.

FORESTERS VICTORS IN HORSE SHOE TOSSING

Accepting the challenge of the Foresters lodge to three games of indoor horse shoes Monday night, the Odd Fellows lodge went down to defeat three times, although the second game was lost by the close score of 49 to 50. The games were held immediately following the regular Monday night meeting of the Foresters at their hall in this city.

The first game went to Tony Rore and Bill Jeffery of the Foresters by a large score due to the red hot tossing of Rore. Cary Arbogast and his partner, Steve Roberts took their defeat good-naturedly. Arbogast as a rule is some slicker himself at the game, but even his good work was of no avail against the unbeatable tossing of Rore and Jeffery Monday night.

The second game of the evening was the most exiciting of all. Fred Crabbe and Cleveland W. Moore, off to a slow start, picked up and caught up with their opponents Spencer White and George Sandow of the Foresters, passed them and then were caught up with at 49 all. White and Sandow then settled down and made the final point to keep the Foresters out of the losers column. All four players in this game tossed some mean shoes and gave the best game exhibition of the night.

The Odd Fellows claim that they had an off night and that the Foresters haven't a chance in the world to repeat. The Odd Fellows are now planning to challenge the Foresters to a return game in a week or two, to be played after the Odd Fellows' regular Tuesday night meeting in their hall on Broad st.

After the games Monday night, the Foresters gave an enjoyable feed and social time, which made their guests of the evening forget their defeat.

NEWS COMMENT

By Christian Andersen

The fight between the Governor and those who are investigating his administration is waxing hot. It is hard to tell who will come out second best, but this much seems reasonably sure. There are some irregularities which if proper light is brought to bear may yield some surprising results in high politics. There is also one certainty, the people are finding out who is who and what about it. One result may be that any politician and his or her claims may be taken with a grain of salt, for sure it is, the politicians are more and more becoming their own iconoclasts.

It was stated recently by an eminent scientist, that he believed thoughts were transferable to other's regardless of the distance the other person might be away from the transferer. His investigation proved he said that thought was a stress in the ether, basically the same as radio tranference, but that thought waves traveled at the slow rate of about 50 feet per second or approximately two miles per minute. Interesting if true, now all I crave to do is to get onto the system and then you will receive a call from me over the thought waves.

The rate of fare by stage to Downieville or to Alleghany we understand, is $5.00 one way, hence very few use the stage to get there. Having been over both roads several times in all kinds of weather and knowing all the conditions, this rate of fare is certainly very high. It would not be so bad if the stages were depending only on the passenger traffic but both stages are primarily freight runs and one of them has a lucrative mail route in addition.

Therefore it seems to one on the fence that really to accomodate the Dear Public who might wish to ride the stages, a substantial reduction would be good business and incidentally people would actually ride the stages instead of riding back and forth with any one else who might be travelling in their direction. Think it over.

I guess we can truthfully say that France has welched on the very first payment she solemnly promised to make in December. Be that as it may it has given W. R. Hearst an opportunity to get even with France for expelling him from their shores for there is no doubt about it, W. R. is fighting a great battle to get us all "Buy American" conscious and that will hurt France in no small way. Any way it is in our way of thinking a darn good idea.

Of course most of you have been reading up on Technocracy and no doubt your opinions have been formed. The fact that scientists are at the head o fthis new rust proof millenium will give the movement a hearing.

Among leaders of Technocracy is Howard Scott, a brilliant Virginian. He is 42 years of age. He is at present consulting engineer with offices the New York. He is dynamic ,and very much a man of action.

The other members of the group are: Dr. Richard Tolman of the California institute of Technology, the late Charles P. Steinmetz, and many other brilliant scientists. At present Technocracy is sponsored by Columbia University ,where 100 draftsmen and engineers are at work completing an energy survey of North America.

Technocracy has an auspicious start and maybe it is better than our present system, anyway I am going to hold an open mind until I know more about it.

I am going to tell you a story which came to me first hand today, and I am telling it for the human interest. The theme fits particularly well into the scheme of things as they are at this time.

A Mr. John Jones who with his family had been placer mining near Sierra City this fall, finally found pickings so slim that he had to give it up. His last bit of money gone he turned to the Red Cross for assistance. This organization gave food to the family, filled his gas tank and gave him five dollars, thus fortified he started for his home in a valley town.

Everything went well until he reached the steepest pitch on Depot Hill. This steep part of the road the car refused to negotiate principally because the heavy trailer with the family belongings was too heavy for the power of his car. Andrew Ponta, the Sierra county traffic officer, on duty in this section came along about then and hitched his car onto the whole outfit to help it over the tough spot.

Everything was going fine when suddenly the trailer broke loose and careened over into the ditch and over turned spilling all the contents. By then it was getting dark and Officer Ponta took the family down to Langley Park and offered to pay Mr. Langley if he would put the family up for the night. And be it said to George Langley credit that he refused pay from either the man or Officer Ponta. Instead he put the family in one of his best cabins supplied them with food and wood to make them comfortable for the night. This morning Langley went with the man back to salvage what was left of the trailer and the family belongings. After several hours work everything had been put into shape for traveling again and the man with his family were proceeding toward their destination and friends.

The story might be titled Mountain Justice and certain it is that Mr. Langley and the officer did one of the things that make life worth living here or fine anywhere.

And right on top of that I am going to tell you another one with the same theme. One of the drivers of the bus between Grass Valley and Nevada City was buying some groceries one evening recently. As he came out of the store, he noticed some small children standing outside. Their clothes were in rags.

He inquired about them and found out that the father was out looking for work and that the children had not eaten since the day before. He determined to do something about it. That night he told the story to some miners and in no time they had contributed $42.00 which was given to the family and last heard of them the mother had found work and was happily facing the world again.

Miners may be considered hard-boiled but their hearts seem to function mighty well when some one is in need.

TRAINING IN THE HOME

Text: Gen. 18:17-19; Deut. 6:4-9; Mark 10:13-16.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson

OUR lesson draws upon three passages of Scripture, widely apart in their literary and historical setting in the Bible, as material for this lesson on the home and the coming generation.

There is something suggestive in this gathering of material from different generations. It reminds us that every age is faced with its problem of the coming generation. It reminds us, also, that the ongoing of the world and the welfare of humanity depends more than anything else upon the way in which each succeeding age meets that problem of training its youth.

The problem of the training of youth ultimately is the problem of the home. There can be little hope of a generation highly developed in character unless there be soundness in the relationship of parents that produce that generation. Moreover, the finest of parents can exercise little strength or guidance upon their children unless there be the conditions of a proper environment and home life.

THESE things, which would seem vital and elemental facts to the Christian, are meeting a challenge in various quarters today. There are certain psychologists who would suggest that a mother is the child's worst enemy, that if from earliest babyhood he could be turned over to experts who would guard and guide his psychology, keep him properly protected from all complexes, and from being "spoiled," we should have a generation of men and faults and feelings of mothers, there are things in the psychology of a mother's love and influence that nothing else can very well replace.

The golden text of this lesson offers, however, a very distinct and definite challenge. It has occasioned a great deal of questioning on the part of parents who, despite every effort to train their children well, have seen them turning out far differently from what they had expected. "Train up a child in the way he should go, and even when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6. Like many proverbs, it is a generalization developed from observation in life but not authenticated by every individual instance

* * *

THERE is a sense in which it might be regarded as a truism: that if a child goes wrong, the very fact is evidence that there has been something mistaken or faulty in the training. Perhaps parents are disposed to think that their training has been without fault through judging from their good intentions and failing to take into account the thousand and one little things which are really influential.

Then, also, there are parents who assume that if they are strict and earnest they have done their part, whereas a whole survey of the character and activities of youth in relation to home training would probably demonstrate that strict and unimaginative training, taking little account of the nature of the child and of the variety of temperaments in children, has done about as much harm as laxity and indifference.

Good training calls for study and discretion, for restraint and

GOOD PROSPECT DEVELOPES ON JAMES RANCH

One of the most promising quartz mining prospects that is being developed at this time is located at the James ranch just 1800 feet due west of the incline shaft of the producing North Star mine. There are five men working in the tunnel at present under the direction of M. L. Mitchel of Nevada City, holder of a lease and option on the 500 acre ranch.

At this time the tunnel is in 1000 feet, having been driven by Mitchel 400 feet further than the 600 feet that it has been for a number of years. The tunnel was put through to the 600 foot mark by Fred Zeitler at the time that he was in charge of the famous Champion mine of Nevada City as manager.

With the exception of a mill, Mitchel has thoroughly equipped the James property with modern mining machinery and his men are driving ahead fast on one of eleven known ledges that have been opened up on the ranch.

In discussing the property, Mitchel said, "the James ranch is considered by some mining engineers and experts as being outside of the so-called Grass Valley mineral zone, but at one time they thought that the Empress mine was likewise situated. How wrong these experts were in the case of the Empress is being demonstrated there daily to their astonishment.

"Of course that does not prove that mining engineers are often wrong. It merely goes to show that gold is where you find it.

"We all know that the mining game, as it is sometimes called, is very uncertain, but as a gold mining prospect, I have seen nothing better in the Nevada City-Grass Valley district than the James property."

The tunnel on the James property is within 50 feet of a cross ledge, which on the surface, shows some very good prospects. It is expected that at the place the tunnel runs into the ledge that the ledge will prove to be sufficiently rich in gold values to warrant its being worked on a commercial basis. The vertical backs at that place will be 220 feet. Where the men are working now, the vertical backs is an even 200 feet.

Last May while working in a shaft located at about the middle of the property, some high grade ore was taken out from what is apparently one of the most important pay shoots on the ranch. Mitchel hopes to reach that pay shoot by tunneling 450 feet further in a straight line, which will give him 327 feet of backs, on the ledge at that place.

BATH CONS. MINE LEASED TO OPEN WHEN SNOW GOES

The Bath Consolidated Mine, consisting of six claims owned by Mr. Thomas Bath in the Rough and Ready mining district about four miles west of this city, was leased and bonded by Bath Tuesday afternoon to Ellsworth Wood of Sacramento. The claims are located but a half mile north west of the successful new Empress mine and show some wonderful quartz gold mining prospects.

Wood is the same man who interested Detroit capital in the Hussey mine of the Willow Valley district a mile north east of Nevada City. Tom Coan of this city interested Wood in the Hussey mine after doing considerable development work there himself. The property is now being equipped with modern mining machinery and the Detroit people have put men to work there recently.

Because of Wood's success in starting the Hussey mine, much interest is being shown in regard to his contemplated work on the Bath property.

The period of time given for the lease is three years. Work is to be started as soon as the snow is off the ground. Woods has done considerable sampling and assaying of the property and expresses himself as being extremely well satisfied.

Bath came to Nevada City field twenty years ago from Yreka where he was successful in mining operations. Two of his claims ,the "Bath" and "Bame Wendoron" were located and staked fifteen years ago. The "Henry Ford" and "Cidonoth" claims Bath staked some six years ago and the "Golden Eagle No. 1" and "Golden Eagle No. 2" he staked three years ago.

There are three tunnels on the property totaling 700 feet in all. Two new shafts on the property are 53 feet and 78 feet deep and a caved in shaft was down to the 76 foot level. In this latter shaft Bath claims to have had a four and one half foot lead that went as high as $200 per ton. Another lead that is opened up and shows a width of five and one half feet averages $9 per ton. From still another place on the property Bath has mined out 100 tons of ore ready for milling that he claims averages $16 per ton.

Bath says that the claims just sold are among the best in this camp. He has been making his living by mining the claims for the past fifteen years and is well known by mining men of this district.

COMPETITOR RESCUES BAKERY CAR DRIVER

Driving along the highway from Sacramento to Nevada City, "Ham" Miller, of the Sacramento Anchor Bakery, drove onto the curves just below the Lady Jane hill, which were made slippery by the new storm and felt his bakery truck slip away from the highway and plunge to the bottom of the 15 foot embankment.

Fortunately for Miller, his competitor, Archie Sleuter, who was driving for the Old Home Bakery of Sacramento, was driving about a hundred feet ahead of him at the time of the accident, early Wednesday morning. Purely by chance, Sletuter happened to glance at his rear mirror just as Miller's truck slid over the edge of the bank. He hurried back to give assistance and after dragging Miller from the totally wrecked truck, hailed a passing automobile and sent the injured man to the Jones Memorial Hospotal.

Miller was conscious when pulled from the wreckage but lost consciousness as soon as placed in the automobile. Upon examination by Dr. Carl P. Jones, a severe bruise just above the right hip was found, but Dr. Jones expects nothing serious to develop. No bones were broken.

Birthday Party For Marjorie Bonivert

Marjorie Bonivert, little daughter of Mrs. Melba Bonivert, enjoyed a a jolly birthday party Saturday afternoon. There were 21 guests, all of whom engaged in delightful games. Prizes were won by Geraldine Garesio and Jean Cartoni. The guests were: Vivian Bennets, G. Bennetts, Geraldine Garesio, Barbara Grasio, Ruth Whiting, Helen Tennis, Dorothy Whiting, Dorothy Gooding, Delroy Bonivert, Marjorie Bonivert, Bobbie Ebough, Fay Kent, Jean Weldon, Gene Cartoni, Elden Hutchison, Bessie Berry, B. Berry, June Ford, Sammy Jones, and Malcolm McGregor.

Fred Yokum, employed in the Murchie mine, who was injured several days ago, was sufficiently recovered to resume work Wednesday.

AUBURN MEN KEENLY INTERESTED IN MINING

Calling in this city yesterday on mining business were Messrs. Earl Lukens and George W. Young of Auburn. Both men are actively interested in mining in the Auburn and Ophir fields and state that mining is exciting wide interest there.

Lukens is sponsoring the Mine Owners Association Inc. and the California Mining Journal. He also owns and operates the Lukens Custom Mill outside Auburn. Connected with the mill Lukens has mining rights that he works when custom ore fails. He has 4000 tons of rock mined and ready to mill on hand.

All of this mining work is, of should be, second love for Lukens as his regular work fiinds him as manager of the big G. E. Lukens and Sons hardware store in Auburn.

As manager of the Placer Land Company of Auburn, Young has been interested in a number of mining deals in the Ophir district recently.

Both visitors are good boosters for the mining industry of this part of the state and express the belief that the near future will see many new and profitable mines brought into production.

Lukens is planing a visit to this city soon with J. P. Hall, publisher of the California Mining Journal.
